

The Nails And Cross Await

Jesus into a world of darkness you

Came searching for the sheep so lost,

The ones who've gone astray.

Jesus into a stable your first home

A king and yet for you no throne'

The nails and cross await, the nails and cross await.

Jesus into the world at Bethlehem,

It's not far there to Jerusalem

But there's much for you to do.

Jesus a baby in an ox's stall

Grew to be a man to die for all,

The nails and cross await, the nails and cross await.

This is the Christmas we all know.

The Nails And Cross Await

But Jesus I just could not leave you lying there
Within a stable cold and bare,
That is not the end for me.
Jesus can't think of you just once a year,
Sing silent night and shed a tear.
They nailed you to a tree, they nailed you there for me
